

The purpose of this remote presentation round is to evaluate the communication skill, analytical skill, presentation skill, technical skill and your speed of operation, so pls don't read out from a script, do it spontaneously. You will be given a set of specific presentation topics via noticeboard at a predefined time and you have to research on the internet, record yourself explaining the topics given during test (No PPT pls), upload it to youtube and submit the video URL here <https://bit.ly/binaryfolks-assignment>

Test your Presentation Setup well before your final presentation and upload to your youtube account to make sure you are very familiar with the process and none of the components or setup are malfunctioning. During the final presentation, you will have very limited time to complete the whole presentation, upload and share.

How to Record and Upload Your Presentation

1. Find a well lit and quiet space somewhere.
2. Find a friend or family member who can hold the phone camera during your presentation or use a tripod.
 - 2.1. The phone camera should be placed 4 ft away from you so the video can capture your hand gestures too.
 - 2.2. You should use a headphone with microphone so that the voice capture is very clear
3. Once you are ready for the presentation, ask your cameraman to open the Youtube App in your smartphone and hit the record button. If you need help with the process, watch this tutorial video.
4. Once you complete the recording, please publish this video with privacy mode "Unlisted" only. "Unlisted Mode" ensures that this video is only viewable by people whom you have sent the video URL. Any video published with "Private" or "Public" mode or video shared with anybody else (apart from designated officials of Binaryfolks) may lead to cancellation of your candidature.
5. IMPORTANT : In the description of your youtube video please put the hyper linked timestamp of each topic's starting point as described here <https://youtu.be/DOtTZfALIGI> ... Pls put the timestamp at the starting of the line, not at the end.
6. Once you are able to view your video in YouTube, please submit the video URL here <https://bit.ly/binaryfolks-assignment>
7. Please don't add any background music or special effects so the clarity of video presentation is not affected.
